
These factors answer different questions. They are not multiplied unless the timing scope, representation, and output contract match.