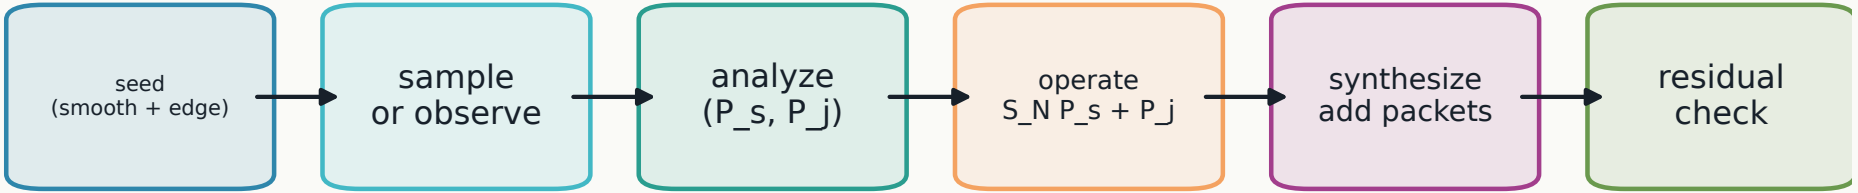
From the signal seed to reconstruction



The discontinuity is never forced through the global Fourier truncation block.