The exact packet method removes the discontinuity contribution from the spectral error