One compactly supported measure generates the complete positive packet theory