Two specified objects; their exact special-value identification remains open.