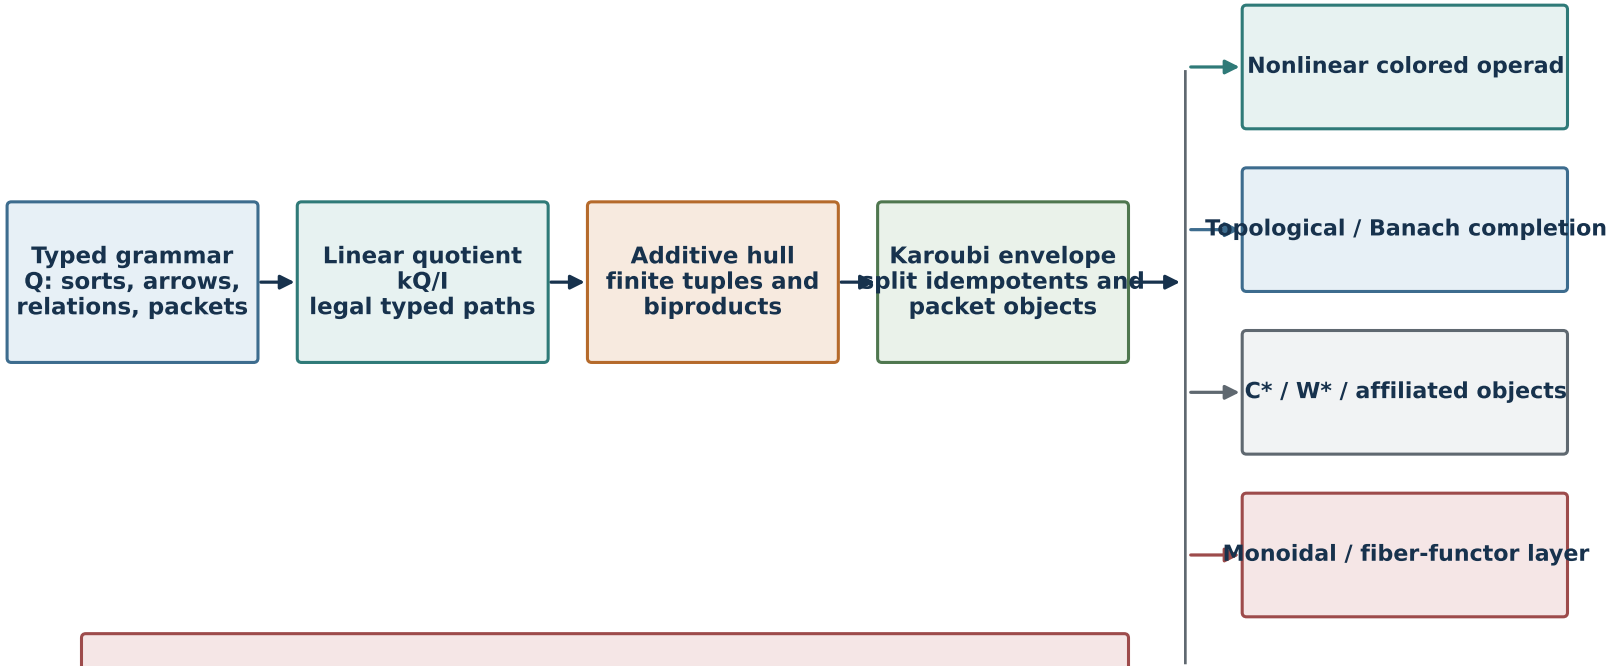
The proved common core and the profile-indexed extensions

The main spine is universal. Each doctrine branch is optional and carries its own preservation hypotheses.



Boundary: the additive-Karoubi core is proved. Topology, involution, countable convergence, nonlinear composition, and tensor coherence are not created unless the corresponding doctrine is declared and verified.